

Those of you who know our former member Joe Walsh, already know that he is an excellent teacher! He received a B.S. in English from Holy Cross, a Certificate of Completion from Brooks Institute of Photographic Arts and Science, and an M.A. in Photography from Goddard College, after which he was Associate Professor of Photography at Amarillo College from 1976-2006 and, concurrently, Visiting Professor of Photography at West Texas A&M from 1988-1999. Joe's photographs are widely shown at local museums and art galleries. His most recent book "Paris...je t'aime" is a tribute to the old master's sepia and silver photography taken with state of the art digital technology.
